Autism spectrum disorder (ASD), a complex neurodevelopment disorders with fast rising prevalence, now affects 1 in 68 children and 1 in 54 boys in the USA based on the latest CDC release. Autism is taxing heavily on our healthcare system, impact significantly to millions of individuals and families and is becoming a global public health crisis.

Autism has been one of our major focuses and we at American Chinese Medical Exchange Society (ACMES) commit to defeat autism. Our journals "North American Journal of Medicine & Science" & "North American Journal of Medicine and Health publishes Autism special issue regularly, introducing newest research findings and different perspectives from panels of expert researchers and clinicians fighting at the frontline. Our "To Cure Autism Institute" has launched 3 years and dedicated to share the most advanced, evidence based research findings and integrative approach to understand and manage Autism. Our Life long buddy project provide autism individuals with peer support for academic success and independent living. Please join us this meaningful course, promote autism awareness and help autism individuals and their families, together, we will make difference!

American Chinese Medical Exchange Society (ACMES)

American Chinese Medical Exchange Society (ACMES) is a 501C3 non-profit organization for medical professionals, founded and operated by leading experts in diverse medical fields and healthcare related areas in both the U.S. and China.

► Mission

The mission of the organization is to promote medical exchanges between the U.S. and China. The primary goal is to establish direct access and communication channels for international medical consultation and clinical medicine. With its knowledge and expertise in the medical field and two existing medical publications, ACMES is positioned to contribute to the promotion of global health.

► Organizational Structure

The organization taps into various professional social resources and networks, including leading experts in various medical and healthcare disciplines at Harvard Medical School and its affiliated hospitals, other elite medical schools as well as health administrations. The core members have strong academic and social connections and leadership networks that enable the association to fulfill its mission.
